Self-Determination Defined

There are many definitions of SD in the literature. The most comprehensive definition is provided by Field, Martin, Miller, Ward, and Wehmeyer (1998).
Self-Determination Defined

A combination of skills, knowledge, and beliefs that enable a person to engage in goal-directed, self-regulated, autonomous behavior.

An understanding of one’s strengths and limitations together with a belief in oneself as capable and effective are essential to self-determination.

When acting on the basis of these skills and attitudes, individuals have greater ability to take control of their lives and assume the role of successful adults in our society.
Components of Self-Determination

- Choice making: appropriately choosing between a finite number of choices

- Problem-solving: weigh pros & cons of potential actions, identify barriers to success

- Decision making: involves choosing between unlimited options

- Goal setting and attainment: ability to set appropriate goals for self and achieve the goals with actions
Components of Self-Determination

- Self-regulation: self-monitoring, self-evaluation, self-instruction, self-management (controlling own behavior by being aware of one’s actions and providing feedback)
- Self-awareness: awareness of own individuality, strengths, and areas for improvement
- Self-efficacy: understanding that own actions have an impact – you are a causal agency in your life
- Self-advocacy: have knowledge of self, knowledge of rights, communication skills, and leadership ability.
Self-awareness

Sample sub-components include
- Strengths
- Preferences
- Goals
- Dreams
- Interests
- Learning style
- Support needs
- Accommodation needs
- Characteristics of one’s disability
- Responsibilities

---

Knowledge of Rights

Sample sub-components include
- Personal rights
- Community rights
- Human service rights
- Consumer rights
- Educational rights
- Steps to redress violations
- Steps to advocate for change
- Knowledge of resources

Communication

Sample sub-components include
- Assertiveness
- Negotiation
- Articulation
- Body Language
- Use of assistive technology
- Listening
- Persuasion
- Compromise

---

Leadership

Sample sub-components include
- Knowledge of group’s rights
- Advocating for others or for causes
- Political action
- Knowledge of resources
- Organizational participation
- Team dynamics and roles
Why the emphasis on SD?

- Individuals who score higher on measures of SD have more positive adult outcomes (e.g., better employment, better living situations).
- Research is emerging regarding the relationship between SD and positive school experiences (e.g., higher grades, attendance, fewer behavior problems).

Wehmeyer & Schwartz (1997)
You have the WHYs and the WHATS...so, now the question is HOW???
Assessing Self-Determination

- Purpose: to provide information about readiness to make decisions related to future ambitions and help students in identifying relative strengths and limitations related to self-determination

- Examples:
  - The Arc’s Self-Determination Scale
  - Self-Determination Assessment Battery
  - Choice Maker Self-Determination Assessment
  - AIR Self-Determination Scale
The Arc Self-Determination Scale

- Wehmeyer & Kelchner, 1995
- Target Population: middle and secondary students with Behavioral/Emotional Disorders, Mild ID, LD, Speech/Language Impairments, Developmental Disabilities, OHI, Orthopedic Impairments
- Measures: choice-making, decision-making, problem-solving, self-awareness, self-regulation, goal setting & planning, self-efficacy
- Data collection options: student self-report
- Price: free

http://education.ou.edu/zarrow/?p=38&z=39
Self-Determination Assessment Battery

- Hoffman, Field, & Sawilowsky, 1996
- Target population: Secondary students with mild to moderate disabilities
- Measures: decision-making, problem-solving, self-awareness, self-advocacy, goal setting & planning, learning from mistakes, risk taking
- Data collection options: Student, parent, teacher interviews, student self-report, and behavioral observation
- Price: free

http://education.ou.edu/zarrow/?p=38&z=41
ChoiceMaker Self-Determination Assessment

- Martin & Marshall, 1996
- Target Population: middle and secondary students with Learning Disabilities and Emotional/Behavioral Disorders
- Measures: choice-making, decision-making, problem-solving, self-awareness, self-advocacy, goal setting & planning
- Data collection options: rating scale for teacher
- Price: $15.49 for 25 copies (www.sopriswest.com)
AIR Self-Determination Scale

- (Wolman, Campeau, DuBois, Mithaug, & Stolarski, 1994)
- Target Population: all school-age students with and without disabilities
- Measures: choice-making, self-regulation, self-awareness, self-advocacy, goal setting & planning
- Data collection options: rating scales for teacher, parent, and student
- Price: free

Approaches for Promoting SD in Students

1. Use student-driven IEP and transition planning.
2. Directly teaching skills or enhancing knowledge
3. Embedding instruction into the general curriculum
4. Use Person-Centered Planning
Approaches for Promoting SD in Students

1. Student-driven IEP and transition planning
   - Making sure the student attends and is PREPARED for participating in their IEP meetings
   - Important step in transferring decision-making power to students
   - Teaching students about the IEP and its use in guiding their future
   - Remember that ALL students are capable of participating
Approaches for Promoting SD in Students

2. Directly teaching skills or enhancing knowledge

   Self-management (self-monitoring, self-recording, self-graphing, ...)
   Choice-making
   Problem-solving

How do you teach these skills?
3. Embedding instruction into the general curriculum

- Examples:
  - Literature Circles
  - IEP Template
  - Go 4 It...Now!
  - Self-Determined Learning Model of Instruction (SDLMI)
Approaches for Promoting SD in Students

Literature Circles

- Blum, Lipsett, & Yocom (2002)
- 8th and 9th grade students with disabilities showed improvement in their perceptions of their reading skills and were able to contribute to discussions in their literature circles
- Self-determination components addressed: problem-solving and decision-making
- ELA skills addressed: reading comprehension, oral communication
Approaches for Promoting SD in Students

Literature Circles in Practice

- Assign students to groups of 4 to 6
- Students in the group read the same book but prepare for the literature circle discussions by assuming different roles (e.g., discussion leader, vocabulary enricher, illustrator, connector)
- Students complete assignment sheets to prepare for their role in the discussion; these sheets give the students specific tasks to complete
Approaches for Promoting SD in Students

IEP Template

- Konrad & Test (2004)
- 7th grade students with learning disabilities or mild mental retardation showed improvement in their abilities to complete the IEP Template
- Self-determination components addressed: goal-setting and self-awareness
- ELA skills addressed: research skills, writing for a variety of purposes, sentence writing
Approaches for Promoting SD in Students

IEP Template in Practice

- IEP awareness instruction (What is an IEP and why do I have one?)
- Career exploration using on-line career interest inventories and the on-line Occupational Outlook Handbook
- Students interview parents and teachers
- Direct instruction and modeling of how to complete the Template
- Template includes a vision statement; present level of performance; goals and objectives; measurement criteria and procedures; and services and accommodations
Approaches for Promoting SD in Students

GO 4 IT...NOW!

- Konrad, Trela, & Test (2004)
- High-school students with cognitive and physical disabilities showed improvement in their abilities write IEP goal paragraphs and other types of expository paragraphs
- Self-determination components addressed: goal-setting, self-awareness, and self-regulation
- ELA skills addressed: writing for a variety of purposes, paragraph writing
GO 4 IT...NOW! in Practice

- Uses a mnemonic device to help students write 6-sentence goal paragraphs
- Can be applied to other types of paragraph writing

Approaches for Promoting SD in Students

SDLMI

- Three phases:
  - Phase 1: Set a Goal
  - Phase 2: Take Action
  - Phase 3: Adjust Goal or Plan
- Used for setting academic and behavior goals
4. Person-Centered Planning

A facilitated process designed to plan and develop supports to meet the specific desires of the focal person.

First, a group (or circle) of individuals is identified by the student and family who have an interest in funding or providing supports for the student.

Second, the group meets at a place convenient for all members (often a home or restaurant) to develop a plan.
Approaches for Promoting SD in Students

Some Types of PCP

Personal Futures Planning (Miner & Bates, 1997)

Approaches for Promoting SD in Students

McGill Action Planning System (MAPS)

1. What is the individual’s history?
2. What is your dream for the future?
3. What is your nightmare?
4. Who is the individual?
5. What are the individual’s strengths, gifts, and abilities?
6. What are the individual’s needs?
7. What would the individual’s ideal day at school look like?
8. What must be done to make it happen?

Next S.T.E.P.
(Student Transition & Educational Planning)

- Population:
  - All levels of disability
  - Ages 14 through 21

- Purpose:
  - Helps students learn how to take charge of their own transition planning process
  - Helps students assume responsibility for important life decisions with support from teachers and parents

- Materials:
  - 16 lessons with fully developed lesson plans

Self-directed IEP

True or False

- There are 9 steps in the Self-directed IEP curriculum
SD Lesson Plans

True or False

- There are lesson plans on www.nsttac.org for teaching self-determination skills that include decision-making, goal setting and attainment, problem-solving, self-awareness, and self-advocacy.
SD Components

True or False

- Self-advocacy means having knowledge of self, knowledge of rights, communication skills, and leadership ability
Whose Future Is It Anyway?

True or False

Whose Future Is It Anyway? Is a published self-determination and transition planning curriculum that is very expensive to purchase.
Emphasis on SD

True or False

Individuals who score higher on measures of SD have more positive adult outcomes (e.g., better employment, better living situations)
Evidence-based Practice

True or False

“Involving students in the IEP process” is an evidence-based practice that includes instruction on self-determination skills.
Self-Advocacy Strategy

True or False

- The Self-Advocacy Strategy used the mnemonic IPLAN to teach self-advocacy to students with disabilities.
True or False

The Choice-Maker curriculum is comprised of 3 strands (choosing goals, expressing goals, taking action) and addresses 4 transition areas (education, employment, independent living, recreation/leisure).
